With the inclusion of the newly formed ownership and executive team, coupled with the added service offerings, Waltz is poised to emerge as the preeminent independent document solutions provider in Southwest Ohio, and Northern Kentucky.

Incoming Waltz CEO, Brandon Meek, commented, "We are thrilled to announce the merger with Waltz Business Solutions. I have admired and respected the superb reputation and strong brand recognition that Waltz has built over the past 130 years. A successful company is about bringing the right people together, and I could not be more confident in our new team. The addition of DSC to Waltz is the perfect merger to take us to a new level as we continue to strive for ambitious growth and expansion."

Founded in 1966, DSC Office Systems (also a Kyocera Dealer) is renowned for its commitment to customer loyalty and satisfaction. Brandon Meek acquired DSC Office Systems in 2021. In just two short years, he and his team achieved remarkable growth while diligently working with the Jehn family to bring about the merger. Moving forward under the Waltz name, the newly formed executive team will include Executive VP Matt Jehn, VP of Sales Brady Bosse, and CFO Josh Jehn.

Waltz Business Solutions, founded in 1892, embarked on its journey in business technology with manual typewriters and continually evolved alongside advancing technology up to the present day. In addition to its Kyocera copiers and printers, Waltz offers an extensive range of office technology and services. These include document imaging/scanning, workflow automation, e-fax service, secure document destruction, cutting-edge collaboration tools such as interactive touch screen displays and security cameras/software.

With the addition of DSC, Waltz will now offer mailing equipment, digital duplicators as well as off-line finishing equipment. Waltz's reputation for fostering long-term client relationships will continue long into the future with the mentality of 'the whole is greater than the sum of its parts' in the joining of these two great companies.
